

SEMINARS, WEBINARS, CONFERENCES AND INVITED LECTURES

The most important stage of knowledge management is knowledge transfer. knowledge transfer and student orientation have significant impacts on students' absorptive capacity and learning outcomes and that students' prior knowledge has a positive moderating effect on the relationship between knowledge transfer and absorptive capacities. Seminars, webinars, conferences, and invited lectures are the different modes of transfer of knowledge.

Following are the seminars, webinars, conferences and invited lectures organized by different departments of the institution for the creation and transfer of knowledge.

SEMINAR ON "YOUR FUTURE WITH PHYSICS: CAREER DIRECTIONS"

Department of Physics organized a career-oriented seminar on "Your future with Physics: Career directions" along with the Department Association "SHARP" inauguration on 12th December 2019. Lt. Dr. D.Sajan, Head of the Department of Physics, Bishop Moore College, Mavelikkara was the resource person. Rev. Dr. Sr Irene, Principal inaugurated the programme. The purpose of the seminar was to give awareness about career and research opportunities in physics. Ms Anjana P, Association secretary delivered the welcome speech.

The session began with a brief introduction to Physics and its various branches. The resource person pointed out how to prepare for different competitive examinations like CSIR-NET/JRF, GATE, JAM, TIFR, JEST, etc. and also enlisted reputed institutes for doing research in physics both in India and abroad. He mentioned that like in the private sector there were numerous opportunities in the Government sector. Also, the opportunities of scientific jobs in organizations like Defense Research and Development Organization (DRDO), Babha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) and ISRO were explained. 103 students attended the session. Dr. Sajan presented various student internships and government-funded student projects that the students can do during their undergraduate and post-graduate programs. The session was very fruitful and many students asked their queries and clarifications regarding the courses which were explained well during the session. The students responded positively and requested to conduct more career-oriented seminars so that they can plan their future careers effectively.

BASIC MATHEMATICS

Bridge Course offered by the Department of Economics

Sacred Heart College, Chalakudy

The Department of Economics, Sacred Heart College, Chalakudy, is one of five colleges under the University of Calicut that offers the 'Mathematical Tools for Economics' as a complementary course for the BA Economics programme. The core papers for BA Economics 'Quantitative Methods for Economic Analysis' and 'Mathematical Economics' also have mathematical content. Though this is an advantage for the students undergoing the programme, there is a challenge involved. Most of the students who opt for the BA Economics Programme are those who opted for the Humanities group for higher secondary, for which Mathematics is not offered as a subject. Besides, it is a general trend that students who do not like Mathematics opt for the humanities group for higher secondary. The department felt the need to offer a bridge course in Basic Mathematics for first-year degree students. The objective of the bridge course is to refresh the basic mathematics, arithmetic and algebra the student has studied at the school level and to develop the adequate background skill in mathematics to pursue the complimentary course 'Mathematical Tools for Economics' and also the core course 'Quantitative Methods for Economic Analysis. The A bridge course for the first-year students is conducted every year during the first two semesters outside the regular working hours as a 20-hour course during the zero hours. A syllabus is framed for the bridge course by the Department of Economics.

Report

Post-Graduate Department of Commerce conducted a One Day State Level Seminar on 'GST : ONE NATION ONE MARKET ONE TAX' on 9th August 2017 in collaboration with the trade association of chalakudy. The session was handled by technical experts Dr. Vijaya Kumar and K. Santha Kumar. The experts are highly specialized and knowledgeable speakers and they give an intensive exposure to a topic through presentations and discussions. By asking questions, taking detailed notes, students are able to get a wide range of knowledge in a specific field. Many students find it more valuable or interesting.

These sessions provided education not from books, but through practical examples and real life experiences. Eminent personalities who conduct these sessions help the students to gain an insight of the outside world at an early age so that they have an idea of what the competitive world has in store for them when they step out of their comfort zone.

Prof. Tomy M.G, Head of the department, Coordinator Ms. Keerthana T.U and all other faculty members of the Commerce Department give their maximum support and effort to make this seminar a grand success. The students' increased knowledge of GST by attending this lecture would benefit their practical skills.

A LECTURE ON RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

Report on Research Methodology

The 21st century contemporary educational society is characterized by an undue emphasis on the phenomenon of authentic research. Research, down the years, as is established, is a kind of serious activity that involves adding on to the comprehensive catalogue of existing information. Many an academician is urged to get involved in the process of research and as of now, candidates with doctoral degrees are of high demand in the professional field of teaching. As per the new regulations notified by the UGC, many a university has made it compulsory that the recruitment of Assistant Professors, requires a doctoral degree as a part of applicants' eligibility. As is known, the procedure of research is indeed branded as objective, unbiased and highly organized. Naturally, this sort of a grave intellectual exercise, mandates a specific kind of methodology to work upon. As more and more research works are being carried out by the members of the academic community, a comprehensive awareness regarding the methodology to be adopted and varied ways of restraining academia from the plagiaristic attempts are also to be de-promoted so as to contribute fresh, original and independent episteme to the existing world of info. Swimming against the tide, with these varied nuances in mind, the Department of English, with the intent of introducing the students into the world of research organized a class on research methodology which was lectured by Dr. G. Praseeda, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Mercy College, Palakkad on 10 Jan 2017. The lecture session directed to the students of the Department of English was indeed a resourceful one.

SEMINAR ON REFLECTION, RELATIVISM AND RECREATION:

ART AS CULTURAL CAPITAL

Art has always been typical and representational of culture. Each culture is trying to give expression to its lineage, economy, society, religion, art, technology. Language has always been a component of culture. Art has been one of the substantial means by which such multifarious aspects of culture are getting illuminated. Over the centuries, art has been prominent in bearing the essence of culture and thus transferring it across to the minds of the individuals. The role of art has not at all been negotiable, in sustaining the cultural values, identity, unity, and uniqueness of nations, races, religions as well as ethnic groups. -Cultural relativism asserts that each culture has to be understood based on its own practices, beliefs and cultural environment. It signifies equal validity and respectability for all cultures. The ideology is arrestingly perceivable in a wide range of artistic compositions in literature, painting, theatre, music and what not. With persisting charm, art recreates life, in literature, fashion, music, theatre, painting, sculpture and other artistic realms.

In the era of Post Modernism and Post- truth, the speaker of the Seminar aimed to analyse time, culture and art to logically deduce the subjective influences of art beyond the three parameters; time, culture and experiences. The Seminar was intended to prove this hypothetical assumption and the three lead papers as well as other presentations were concerning the particular point. For the keynote speaker, her research areas was the same: 'Neoclassical art and fashion in the 1870's. Thus she explained the methodology which she resorted to in her research work. The presenters had been specifically asked to follow the research methodology in their papers and it was a major norm in the selection of the papers.

TRANSLATING NATION BOUNDARIES: CULTURE & BODY

The Department of English in association with IQAC of Sacred Heart College for Women, Chalakudy is organising a Four day National Webinar Series on Translating Boundaries: Nation, Culture and Body from 23 March 2021 to 26 March 2021 at 10.30 am through Google Meet platform and YouTube Live.

Concept Note:

The fear of transgression leads to the creation, fixation or extension of boundaries and translations succinctly impart expression to the nuances of such transgressions. Meanings are born when the cultural, the literary and the sociological boundaries are transgressed. The webinar, Translating Boundaries: Nation, Culture and Body, attempts to encompass the discussions on the discourses of gender, language and culture on translations, the limits of imagination which is constantly surpassed in Indian English fiction, the digressions in youth subculture and the epidermal metaphors with their implications in literature.

Career Counseling

Availability of relevant and accessible information coupled with professional guidance to utilize the same can result in better career achievements outside the classrooms and help in the healthy progression of students. The conventional information system is now to be supplemented with active guidance and information technology that is fast replacing the print media with a system that can quickly retrieve information details for the benefit of all concerned. Now it is important to institutionalize this support to enhance the reach and scope of available opportunities for the students and prepare them for the future challenges. Department of Chemistry provides career and counseling support to the students which make them confident to perform better. Counseling thus addresses both the academic and the career concerns and opportunities. The inculcation of guidance about market patterns and employability can help the institution in building a base for its students. This exercise will result in their socioeconomic integration. Department of Chemistry is providing Career counseling sessions for the advanced learners of final year B.Sc. Chemistry and M.Sc. Chemistry course.

Sasidharan, Managing Director, Wellness Diet and Ms. Biniya Baby, Nutritionist, St. James Hospital Chalakudy were the resource persons. They also conducted an exhibition of their Wellness Diet products.

Ms. Biniya Baby is a nutritionist at St. James Hospital and she gave a class on food, types of food, how food is digested and so on. Food is something that provides nutrients. Nutrients are substances that provide: energy for activity, growth, and all functions of the body such as breathing, digesting food, and keeping warm; materials for the growth and repair of the body, and for keeping the immune system healthy.

She then stressed on the various bad eating and lifestyle habits of college students and especially teens which can cause many ill-effects, such as avoiding breakfast which was common among college students especially girl students. HOW TO READ A SCIENTIFIC LITERATURE

The team from MANAV sent an email to the head of the institution at Sacred Heart College, Chalakudy requesting to conducting a program on “How to read scientific literature”. The Manav Human Atlas project, a collaboration between IISER Pune, Persistent Systems, and the National Centre for Cell Science, in 2019 by the Department of Biotechnology Secretary Dr. Renu Swarup. It is funded by the Department of Biotechnology, this project aims to construct a comprehensive map of the entire human body which will explicitly document

On 7th October 2020 Students attended webinar on how to read scientific literature. The interactive sessions were handled by Dr. Anupama Harshal. She gave an introductory lecture on MANAV, the Human Atlas Initiative. She trained the students how to read research articles and review articles. She acquainted students with research journals. She taught students about the pattern of a scientific paper, it should contain a title, abstract introduction, review of literature, materials and methods, results, discussion, conclusion and references. Through this webinar students gained skill in easy way to read and write scientific literature.

After the webinar the students were asked to attend online evaluation of a scientific paper and English proficiency test. The online test was conducted at a later date. The students were given a few days to complete the evaluation. This involved the reading of a scientific paper based on which questions were to be answered by the students. The questions asked were also used to assess the English proficiency of the student.

A soft skill training program, 'MOMENTUM' A REVIVAL FROM THE LASSITUDE OF LOCKDOWN, was conducted by the Department of Zoology. The program was held from April 5 to 8 2021, for the first-year degree online batch. It was an extracurricular initiative by the department to engage the students in an experience of being in college and a break from pure academics. The program was designed to engage them in fun and to train them in some skills they could use as stepping stones in their life. The training session was led by Ms Bincy Baby, faculty of Department of Zoology. The sessions were conducted through Google meet and WhatsApp groups for group discussion.

The class was divided into 4 groups and each group was provided with a group WhatsApp to discuss during group activities.

The sessions were divided into four parts of one hour each.

- Personal Skills,
- Social Skills,
- Organizational Skills
- Grand Finale.

The grand finale was the sum total of the first three sessions as each group was told to create a 10 minute long cultural program. The cultural programme night was successful as trainees turned out to be very creative and great problem solvers while faced a technical difficulty. Feedback session for students was arranged after cultural programs. The training programme ended with a congratulatory note from Dr Tessy K L, HOD, Department of Zoology.

NATIONAL WEBINAR ON “BLOCKCHAIN TECHNOLOGY”

The department organised a National Webinar on “Blockchain Technology ” on 26-02-2021 which helps in the online transactions using new technology with creative minds in this new era of emerging echnologies . Dr V. Karthikeyani, Assistant Professor in Computer Science, Government Arts and Science College, Komarapalayam, Tamilnadu, was the resource person. Dr.Sr. Miranto gave the welcome address. Blockchain technology is a structure that stores transactional records, also known as the block, of the public in several databases, known as the “chain,” in a network connected through peer-to-peer nodes. Typically, this storage is referred to as a 'digital ledger. It is defined as a decentralised, distributed ledger that records the provenance of a digital asset. By inherent design, the data on a blockchain is unable to be modified, which makes it a legitimate disruptor for industries like payments, cybersecurity and healthcare '.Dr.V.Karthikeyani also talked about the increasing technology and about cryptocurrency.The session lasted for more than one hour and the participants were given certificates.
