The Head of the Department welcomed all the members. After the detailed discussion on the items of circulated agenda, the Board of studies decided to:

Item 1

The next stage syllabus should include application- oriented subjects such as skill development, financial management, and chartered economics.

Item 2

Internal and external exams should include application – level questions.

Item 3

Implement Objective – based evaluation. Assignments and seminars should be application oriented.

Item 4

To promote entrepreneurship and internships for students, curriculum should include practical experiences and opportunities for real- world application

To develop self – confidence, communication skills, practical experience and knowledge. We should include more interactive and practical components in the syllabus.

To provide experiential learning for students and give importance to placements and field visit.
